

Editorial standards for the publishing series Gender, Science & Society by FedOA University Press

Osservatorio di genere sull'università e la ricerca by UNINA

Characters: Times New Roman

• Article title:

- 14 point bold
- 1 white line spacing
- left justify

• Author:

- 12 point italic
- 1,5 white line spacing
- left justify
- 2 white lines (1 white line spacing) before the abstract

• Abstract:

- 12 point italic
- 1 white line spacing
- center justify
- 3 white lines (single line spacing) before the abstract and 2 white lines (single line spacing) after the abstract

• Text:

- 12 point
- 1 white line spacing
- center justify

• Paragraphs titles:

- 14 point bold
- 1 white line spacing
- left justify
- 2 lines (single line spacing) before the paragraph title and 1 line (single line spacing) after

• Subsections titles:

- 12 point bold
- 1 white line spacing
- left justify
- 2 white lines (single line spacing) before the paragraph title and 1 white line (single line spacing) after

• Citations:

- if greater than three lines, they are returned outside the body of the text, in body 10, single line spacing, leaving 1 white line before the beginning of the quotation and 1 white line at the end, without opening and closing quotes
- if inserted in the text, leave them in body 11 putting them in quotation marks a corporal (e.g. «....»)

• Footnotes:

- 9 point
- 1 white line spacing
- center justify
- The reference number of the note will go in the text at the apex, without parentheses and before punctuation
- The reference number in the note should automatically result in body 8 and apex
- The text of the note will follow

• Tables:

- 9 point, 1 white line spacing
- 1 white line (single line spacing) before the table (or figure) and 1 white line (single line spacing) after

• Figures and tables captions:

- 9 point, 1 white line spacing
- center justify
- the figure's caption will go under the figure, the table's caption will go above the table

• middle dash versus short dash:

- middle dash (–): if in a period you insert an inscription, the middle dash (–) must be used both on opening and closing
- short dash (-): short dash (-) should only be used to join two words or numerical range

quotation marks:

- quotation marks (""): to indicate a term that is the subject of the speech, a key term, a derived passage (of which the exact reference is omitted). It is preferable to use italics to emphasize a term;
- quotation marks «a caporale» (« »): to open and close quotations in the text
- always use the apostrophe with the graces (') and not the straight one (')
- always use quotation marks with graces ("") and not straight ones (")

• table:

- all tables must be numbered consecutively starting with 1 for each chapter
- the abbreviation "tab.". is usually used in both the text and the caption
- example caption: Tab. 1 Table caption.
- the table caption goes above the table itself text (character in body 9)

Dates and numbers

- years: the 90s (the decade), 1990 (single year)
- centuries in Roman numerals (upper case): XXI sec. a. C.
- Month of the year in uppercase and dates in full: Thursday 11 June 2020
- Numbers: thousands in numbers with the point (e.g. 10,000); decimals with comma (e.g.122,67)

Bibliographic references

Citations in the text include author name, year and, eventually, page number in parentheses: (Rossi, 1950), (Rossi e Bianchi, 1999), (Rossi 2011, p. 21), (Rossi, Bianchi, e Verdi, 1950), if more than three authors: (Rossi et al., 1950).

All references should be listed at the end of the article under Bibliographic references in 11 Times New Roman body and single line spacing, as in the following examples:

• Articles in journal:

Acker Joan (1990), Hierarchies, jobs, bodies: A theory of gendered organizations, Gender & society, 4 (2), 139-158.

Benschop Yvonne e Verloo Mieke (2006), Sisyphus' Sisters: Can Gender Mainstreaming Escape the Genderedness of Organizations?, Journal of Gender Studies, 15 (1), 19-33.

• Essays in the volume edited by:

Foucault Michel (1982), The Subject and Power, in Herbert Dreyfus and Paul Rabinow (Eds.), Michel Foucault: Beyond Structuralism and Hermeneutics (221-239), The University of Chicago Press, Chicago.

• Volume:

Merton Robert King (1973), The sociology of science: Theoretical and empirical investigations, University of Chicago press, Chicago.

N.B.: Author's first name must be entered in full after the surname.